INTERNATIONAL SOS

WORKREADY SOLUTION

Almost every company in the world has been forced to rapidly adapt to COVID-19. As the situation continues to evolve and more businesses are allowed to reopen, organizations need to identify personnel performing essential tasks that require them to enter the workplace. In order to open safely, companies will need to ensure appropriate measures are taken which may include social distancing, rostering, screening, personal protective equipment (PPE) and other proactive steps. One critical feature in an effective return to operations plan is the capability to monitor employees to ensure that any contacts or cases of COVID-19 are identified and isolated as quickly as possible, and that the workplace remains a safe zone.

WORKREADY SCREENING

WorkReady allows you to deploy a daily short questionnaire to all of your employees and monitor the work readiness status of your workforce in one convenient place – the WorkReady dashboard.

The questionnaire will take your employees through a set of simple questions which will identify whether they are/were:

- ✓ experiencing any symptoms common with COVID-19
- ✓ exposed to someone who is likely to have COVID-19
- ✓ caring for someone sick, or otherwise, which prevents them from coming to work; or
- ✓ healthy and able to work, either from home or at the workplace
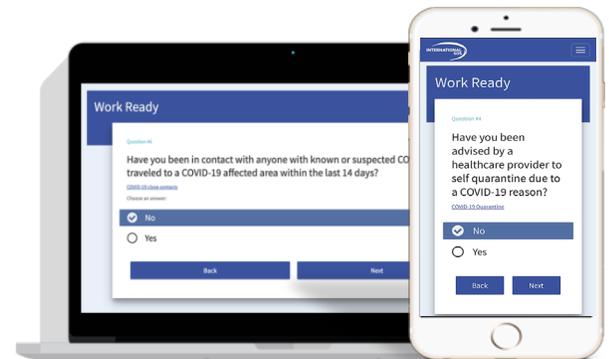

The questionnaire will allow the manager to protect COVID-19 vulnerable or at-risk personnel by delaying their access to the workplace while maintaining their medical confidentiality. By successfully completing the questionnaire, employees can show their results at the workplace and be fast-tracked through any point of entry screening process.