AN ENVIRONMENT

WITH RESIDUAL RISKS

The influx of people poses numerous challenges, including the availability of accommodation, security, logistics and the potential impact on the country's health infrastructure.

This also means media exposure for your organisation.

Although France is considered a low-risk country, foreign visitors to the country may face certain risks:

- Security issues
 - Social-political unrest and activism (environmental, anti-gaming)
 - Terrorism
 - Opportunistic and organized crime
- Accidents
- Diseases
- Difficulties finding and accessing medical care
- Language barriers & cultural differences

Mitigating these medical and security risks requires expert support and assistance.
